

Canada Skilled Immigration

Canada Skilled Immigration - Atlantic Immigration Program (AIP)

The Atlantic Immigration Program began in 2017 as a pilot programme that was later made permanent. The Atlantic Immigration Program (AIP) allows the admission of around 6,000 persons each year.

The Atlantic Immigration Program allows qualified foreign employees and foreign university graduates to live and work in one of Canada's four Atlantic provinces: New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, or Newfoundland and Labrador. The project assists firms in filling suitable labour positions that they have not been able to fill locally.

Applicants must have a verifiable employment offer to be eligible for the Atlantic Immigration Program. Typically, a candidate must receive a Labour Market Impact Assessment in order to secure a Canadian employment offer that is eligible for immigration reasons (LMIA). The Atlantic Immigration Program does not require this. Instead, the company making the job offer must be disclosed.
